MONDAY, JULY 25, 1768.

NEW-LONDON, JUNE 10.

E hear from Norwich, that last Tuesday a number of the principal gentlemen in that town, had an entertainment at Mr Peck's tavern, adjoining Liberty-tree, on account of Mr. Wilkes's being chose a member of parliament. All the furniture of the table, as dishes, plates, bowls, &c. were marked No. 45. A variety of healths were drank, among which were that of the King, Queen, Mr. Wilkes, &c.—The tree of liberty, we hear, was decorated with

No. 45. WILKES, and LIBERTY.

Boston, June 20. We hear that a committee of both houses of the General Assembly were appointed on Saturday last, to enquire into the grounds of the people's present apprehensions, that measures were taking, or had been taken, to execute the revenue acts of parliament by a naval or military force.

The commissioners and other gentlemen are still on board the Romney——We hear that orders are given to receive them into the castle, and that they are to remove there in a few days, where they will hold their board.

Letters from North-Carolina, mention, that there are great disturbances in that province, occasioned by the act of parliament, prohibiting the issuing of any more paper currency.

Annapolis, June 23. Yesterday evening his Excellency our Governor, after passing the laws made this session, prorogued the General Assembly of this province to Tuesday the 4th of October next.

Last Sunday departed this life, in the 79th year of his age, the Honourable BENJAMIN TASKER, Esq; president of the council.

Portsmouth (in New-Hampshire,) June 24.

By a gentleman from Boston we learn, that General Gage had wrote to Governor Barnard, to send him as soon as possible, the Resolutions of the Assembly of Massachusetts, in regard to a letter from the Secretary of State, ordering the assembly to revoke the transactions of the house respecting their circular letters to the other governments, that he might know how to act.

NEW-LONDON, JUNE 24.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman of credit, dated Boston, June 20, 1768.

"We are in a melancholy situation, as you will see by the news; what the event will be, God knows!—I am this minute informed that there is a letter from Lord Hillsborough, to our chief, to be communicated to the assembly, that if they do not immediately undo what they did last year, and own to the right of parliament to tax America, that we shall have a fleet and army to enforce the measures of parliament.——A dreadful event! But you may depend that it will not be submitted to by this province."

Providence, (Rhode Island) June 25. We are told that Benjamin Hollowell, Esq; comptroller of his Majesty's customs, embarked on Tuesday last, from the Castle, at Boston, on board Capt. Brett, bound for London.

Boston, June 27. We hear that the honourable the Commissioners of the Customs, and the other officers, who had retired on board his Majesty's ship Romney, in the late disturbance, have since disembarked, and landed at Castle William, where a board was held on Tuesday last. The Collector for the port of Boston is also at the Castle.

Upon enquiry made, it appears that it is not the intention of the officers of his Majesty's ship Romney to distress the trade of the town by impressing——That the detention of the young man (mentioned in our last) was occasioned by some mistake; he has since been discharged——The man impressed out of an Eastern coaster, by the armed schooner bound to Halifax, was, we hear, contrary to the orders of the captain of the Romney, who has since sent to have the man returned.

The Honourable Royal Tyler, Esq; one of the committee of the Council who went on board the Romney, the 18th instant, reported to the town, at their last meeting, that they were very politely received by Captain Corner, and that this gentleman fairly accounted for every part of his conduct since his ship came into this harbour, particularly for refusing a man from the goal, in room of another impressed from Captain Waterman; the other man pressed from Captain Dundas, and carried down to Halifax; and for his taking possession of the sloop seized at Hancock's wharf; and that he was fully of opinion, that the inhabitants might safely rely on Captain Corner's word, that he would not impress any belonging to, or married in this province, nor any employed in the trade along shore, or to the neighbouring colonies.

It is reported, that Major Rogers, on his way down to New-York, was refused by the Indians.

New York, June 27. On Tuesday came to town a special messenger from Boston with an express, we hear, to his Excellency the General, relating to the late disturbances in that town.

Boston, June 26. On Tuesday, the 21st instant, his Excellency the Governor sent the following message to the Honourable House of Representatives, viz.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I HAVE his Majesty's orders to make a requisition to you, which I communicate to you in the very words in which I have received it.——I must desire you to take it into your immediate consideration, and I assure you, that your resolutions thereon will have most important consequences to the province—I am myself merely ministerial in this business, having received his Majesty's instructions for all I have to do in it.—I heartily wish you may see how forcible the expediency of your giving this testimonial of your duty and submission is at this time; if you should think otherwise, I must nevertheless do my duty.

Council-chamber June 21. F. BERNARD.

Extract of a letter from the Earl of Hillsborough, dated Whitehall, April 12, 1768.

IT gives great concern to his Majesty to find, that the same moderation which appeared by your letter, No. 3. to have been adopted at the beginning of the session, in a full Assembly, had not continued, and instead of that spirit of prudence and respect to constitution, which seemed at that time to influence the conduct of a large majority of members, a thin house, at the close of the session, should have presumed to revert to, and resolve upon a measure of so inflammatory a nature, as that of writing to the other colonies on a subject of their intended representation against some late acts of parliament.—His Majesty considers this step as evidently tending to create unwarrantable combinations, to excite an unjustifiable opposition to the constitutional authority of parliament, and to revive those unhappy divisions and distractions, which have so greatly prejudicially to Great-Britain and her colonies.—After what passed in the former part of the session, and after the declared sense of so large a majority when the house was full——His Majesty cannot but consider this as a very unfair proceeding, and the resolutions taken thereupon to be contrary to the real sense of the Assembly, and procured by surprize; and therefore it is the King's pleasure, that so soon as the General Court is again assembled at the time prescribed by the charter, you should require of the house of Representatives, in his Majesty's name, to rescind the resolution that gave birth to the circular letter from the Speaker, and to declare their disapprobation of, and dissent to that rash and hasty proceeding.

His Majesty has the fullest reliance on the affections of his good subjects in the Massachusets-Bay, and has observed with satisfaction that spirit of decency, and love of order, which has discovered itself in the conduct of the most considerable of its inhabitants, and therefore his Majesty has the better ground to hope, that the attempt made by a desperate faction to disturb the public tranquility, will be discountenanced, and that the execution of the measure recommended to you, will not meet with any difficulty.——

The house by message desired the Governor to send them the remainder of the above letter, also another letter from his Lordship, which had been communicated to his Majesty's Council, and copies of such letters as his Excellency had wrote on the subject contained in his message, with the King's instructions on that matter.

In consequence of which message his Excellency the Governor sent the following answer, viz.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I SHOULD have communicated to you the whole of the Earl of Hillsborough's letter relating to the business which I laid before you on the twenty-first instant, if I had not been desirous that your compliance with his Majesty's requisition might have its full merit, by its appearing to be entirely dictated by a sense of your duty; but since you decline to know what my further orders are, I herewith send you a copy of the part of the letter relative to this business, which contains all my instructions thereon; and as I know you will not expect that I should disobey the King's positive commands, I must desire, that if you shall resolve to oblige me to execute them, you will, previously to your giving your final answer, prevent the inconveniencies that may fall upon the people for want of the annual tax-bill, which I understand is not yet sent up to the board. If I am obliged to dissolve the General Court, I shall not think myself at liberty to call another, till I shall receive his Majesty's commands for that purpose, which will be too late to prevent the treasurer's issuing his warrant for the whole tax granted by the act of the last year.

As to the letter of the Earl of Hillsborough which I communicated to the council, I may beg leave to be the proper judge of the time and occasion of communicating any papers I receive to the council or house.—If I had then thought it expedient to lay it before the house, I should then have done it; when I shall think so, I shall do it.

As to your request of copies of my letters to the secretary of state, you may assure yourselves, that I shall not ever make public my letters to his Majesty's ministers but upon my own motion, and upon my own reasons. F. BERNARD.

Council-chamber, June 24, 1768.

Remainder of the Earl of Hillsborough's letter.

—IF it should, and if, notwithstanding the apprehensions which may be justly entertained of the ill consequences of this factious spirit which seems to have influenced the resolution of the Assembly, at the conclusion of the last, the new Assembly should refuse to comply with his Majesty's reasonable expectations, it is the King's pleasure you should immediately dissolve them, and transmit to me, to be laid before his Majesty, an account of your proceedings thereon, to the end his Majesty may, if he thinks fit, lay the whole matter before his Parliament, that such provisions as shall found necessary may be made to prevent for the future, a conduct of so extraordinary and unconstitutional a nature—It is not his Majesty's intention that a faithful discharge of your duty should operate to your own prejudice, or to the discontinuance of any necessary establishment—proper care will be taken for the support and dignity of government.

New York, July 4. Friday last his Majesty's 16th regiment of foot now quartered here, was reviewed by his Excellency General Gage, at Greenwich, near this city.

BOSTON, JULY 4, 1768.

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

IT is now a full week since I laid before you his Majesty's requisition, signified by his secretary of state. I must therefore desire you to come to a resolution upon it: For I cannot admit of a much longer delay, without considering it as an answer in the negative. F. BERNARD.

Council-Chamber, June 28, 1768.

A Message from the Assembly to the Governor, June 29. 1768.

May it please your Excellency,

IN answer to your Excellency's message of the 28th instant, the House of Representatives request, that your Excellency would favour this General Court with a recess, that they may consult their constituents, respecting the requisition contained in your Message of the 21st instant, in consequence of the Earl of Hillsborough's letter to your Excellency.

A Message from the Governor to the Assembly.

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I CANNOT consistently with my sense of my duty, prorogue the General Court, until I have received your answer to his Majesty's requisition.—I must therefore repeat my request to you to bring this matter to a conclusion. F. BERNARD.

Council-chamber, June 28, 1768.

On Thursday, the 30th of June, the committee reported a letter to the Right Honourable the Earl of Hillsborough, setting forth to his Lordship, the several votes and resolutions which passed in the last House of Representatives, relating to the circular letter; and shewing that the whole of these matters were transacted in the height of the session, in a full house, and by a large majority. This letter was distinctly read several times; and afterwards accepted by a majority of ninety-three out of one hundred and five members present, and a fair copy was ordered to be taken for the Speaker to sign and transmit to his Lordship as soon as may be.

Then it was moved that the question be put, whether the House will rescind the resolution of the last House, which gave birth to their circular letter to the several Houses of Representatives and Burgesses of the other colonies on the continent? and passed in the negative, by a division of ninety-two to seventeen.

Hereupon the Committee reported an Answer to the Governor's message of the 21st and 24th of June which was accepted by a large majority, and is as follows.

A Message from the Assembly to the Governor, June 30, 1768.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

THE House of Representatives of this his Majesty's ancient and loyal province of the Massachusetts-Bay, have, with the greatest deliberation, considered your message of the 21st and 24th instant, with the several extracts from the letter of the right honourable the Earl of Hillsborough, his Majesty's principal Secretary of State for North-American affairs, dated the 22d of April last, which your Excellency has thought fit to communicate. We have also received the written answer which your Excellency was pleased to give the Committee of this House, directed to wait on you the 29th instant, with a message humbly requesting a recess, that the members might be favoured with an opportunity to consult their constituents at this important crisis, when a direct and peremptory requisition is made of a new and strange construction, and so strenuously urged, viz. That we should immediately rescind the resolution of the last House, to transmit circular letters to the other British colonies on the continent of North-America, barely intimating a desire, that they would join in similar dutiful and loyal petitions to our most gracious Sovereign, for the redress of the grievances occasioned by sundry late acts of parliament, calculated for the sole purpose of raising a revenue in America. We have most diligently revised not only the said resolution, but also the circular letter written and sent in consequence thereof, and after all, they both appear to us, to be conceived in terms not only prudent and moderate in themselves, but respectful to the authority of that truly august body the parliaments of Great Britain, and very dutiful and loyal in regard to his Majesty's sacred person, crown and dignity; of all which we entertain sentiments of the highest reverence and most ardent affection, and should we ever depart from these sentiments, we must stand self-condemned, as unworthy the name of British subjects descended from British ancestors, intimately allied and connected in interests and inclination with our fellow subjects the commons of Great-Britain. We cannot but express our deep concern, that a measure of the late house, in all respects so innocent, in most so virtuous and laudable, and as we conceive so truly patriotic, should have been represented to administration in the odious light of a party and factious measure, and that pushed through by reverting in a thin house to, and re-considering, what in a full assembly had been rejected. It was, and is a matter of notoriety, that more than eighty members were present at the re-consideration of the vote against the application to the other colonies. The vote of re-consideration was obtained by a large majority; it is, or ought to be well known, that the presence of eighty members makes a full house, this number being just double to that which by the Royal Charter of the province is required to constitute the third branch of our colony legislature.

Your Excellency might have been very easily informed, if you was not, that the measures of the late house, in regard to sundry acts of the late parliament for the sole purpose of raising a North-American revenue, were generally carried by three to one: and we dare appeal to your Excellency, for the truth of this assertion, namely, that there were many persons in the majority, in all views, as respectable as the very best of the minority. Nay, so far from any sinister views, were the Committee of the late House appointed and directed to take into their most serious consideration, the then present state of the province, from going into any rash or precipitate measure, that they for some days, actually delayed their first report, which was a letter to Mr. Agent De Berdt, on this candid and generous principle, that those who were reasonably presupposed to be most warmly attached to all your Excellency's measures, especially those for furthering, and by all means, enforcing the acts for levying a North-American revenue, might be present, and a more equal contest arise. It would be incredible, should any one assert, that your Excellency wanted a true information of all these things, which were not done or defired to be hid in a corner, but were notoriously transacted in the open light at noon day. It is to us altogether incomprehensible that we should be required, on the peril of a dissolution of the Great and General Court or Assembly of this province, to rescind a resolution of a former House of Representatives, when 'tis evident that resolution has no existence, but as a mere historical fact.

Your Excellency must know that the resolution refered to, is, to speak in the language of the parliament law, not now, "executory," but to all intents and purposes "executed." The circular letters have been sent, and many of them have been answered, those answers are now in the public papers, the public, the world, must and will judge of the proposals, purposes and answers; we could as well rescind those letters as the resolves, and both would be equally fruitless, if by rescinding, as the world properly imports, is meant a repeal and nullifying the resolution referred to; but if, as is most probable, by the word rescinding is intended a passing a vote of this house, in direct and express disapprobation of the measure above mentioned, as "illegal inflammatory, and tending to promote unjust liable ill combinations against his Majesty's peace, crown and dignity;" We must take the liberty to testify and publicly to declare, that we take it to be the native, inherent and indefeasible right of the subjects, jointly or severally to petition the King for the redress of grievances, provided always that the same be done in a decent, dutiful, loyal and constitutional way, without tumult, disorder or confusion.——Furthermore, we are also humbly, but clearly and very firmly of opinion, that the petition of the late dutiful and loyal house to his Majesty, and their other very orderly applications for the redress of grievances, have had the most desirable tendencie and effects to keep men's minds in ease and quiet: We must be excused in thinking, that the people were in truth patiently waiting for the meeting of the new parliament and their measures, and his Majesty's pleasure, and it is probable, that they would every where have thus waited the great event, had it not been revealed here, that the late provincial applications for redress of grievances, were somehow strangely obstructed, and the province, in consequence of misinformation and misrepresentation, most unfortunately fallen under the royal displeasure, and to compleat this misfortune, it was not only divulged to the other colonies, but some of them actually received the information, before it was made known here, that the house had been accused to his Majesty, or his Ministers, or fallen under the displeasure of the one, or the censure of the other.

On the whole, Sir, we will consider his most sacred Majesty under God, as our King, and best protector and common father, and shall ever bear him true and faithful allegiance.——We also regard your Excellency as the representative of the greatest potentate on earth; and at all times have been, and shall be, so far as was, or is, or could consist with the indefeasible purposes of preserving life, liberty and property, been most ready and willing to treat you with that respect justly due to your high rank and station: But we are constrained to say, that we are disagreeably convinced, that your Excellency entertains not that parental regard for the welfare of the good people of this province, which you have sometimes been pleased to profess, and which they have at all times, an irrefragable right to expect from their Governor. Your Excellency has thought fit, not only to deny us a recess to consult our constituents in regard to the present requisition, but have assured us in effect, that you shall take silence, at least a delay, not as usual for a consent, but for a denial. You have also thought fit to inform us, that you cannot think yourself at liberty, in case of the dissolution of this, to call another assembly without the express orders of his Majesty for that purpose: At the same time, your Excellency has been pleased to assure us, you have communicated the whole of Lord Hillsborough's letter, and your instructions so far as relates to the requisition. In all this, however, we cannot find that your Excellency is more than directed to dissolve the present assembly, in case of a non-compliance on the part of the house. If the votes of the house are to be controuled by direction of a minister, we have left us but a vain semblance of liberty. We know it to be the just prerogative of crown; at pleasure, to dissolve a parliament: We are also sensible, that, consistently with the great charter of this province, your Excellency, when you shall think fit, with or without the intervention of a minister, can dissolve the Great and General Court of this colony, and that without the least obligation to convene another within the year. But should it ever grow into use, for an ill disposed governor of this province, by means of a mistaken, or wilfully wrong state of facts, to procure orders for a dissolution, that same charter will be of no value.

We take this opportunity faithfully and humbly to represent to your Excellency, that the new Revenue Acts and Measures are not only disagreeable to, but in every view are deemed an insupportable burthen and grievance, with a very few exceptions, by all the Freeholders and other inhabitants of this jurisdiction; and we beg leave, once for all, to assure your Excellency, that those of this opinion are of no "party or existing faction." They have, at all times, been ready to devote their lives and fortunes to his Majesty's service. Of loyalty, this majority could as reasonably boast as any who may happen to enjoy your Excellency's smiles. Their reputation, rank, and fortune, are at least equal to those, who may have been sometimes considered as the only friends to good government; while some of the best blood of the colony, even in two Houses of Assembly, lawfully convened, and duly acting, have been openly charged with the unpardonable crime of "Oppugnation against the Royal authority." We have now only to inform your Excellency, that this House have voted not to rescind, as required, the resolution of the last house; and that, on a division on the question, there were XCII Nays, and XVII Yeas. In all this we have been actuated by a conscientious, and finally, a clear and determined sense of duty to God, to our King, our Country, and to our latest posterity: And we most ardently wish, and humbly pray, that in your future conduct your Excellency may be influenced by the same principles.

His Excellency, after having received the last foregoing Message from the House, directed their attendance in the Council Chamber, when after giving his assent to several Bills, he was pleased to prorogue the Great and General Court, to Wednesday the third day of August next.

All the free assemblies upon the continent, who have not been prevented by prorogations, or dissolved, or are now preferring petitions and remonstrances of the same tenor with those of the assembly of this province.

It is with great pleasure we learn, that the gentlemen who form the King's Council in some respectable provinces, have asserted the rights and liberties of the people at this important crisis, with some firmness as the several houses of assembly——May counsellors who have the courage to speak in public the sentiments they profess in private, ever be respected by the multitude of their brethren.

What will such persons have to answer for to their Sovereign and to their God, who, for the sake of increasing their salaries, or any other motive, write the grossest misrepresentations to their superiors, to establish and promote measures, abhorred by the whole people, and which must certainly, if adhered to, be attended with an alienation of mind and the worst of consequences.

July 9. The Great and General Court or Assembly is dissolved.

What a disagreeable picture of human nature does the conduct of some of its species present to our view? One G———r for the sake of doubling his salary, and increasing his perquisites, will be guilty of promoting the basest projects, by the basest misrepresentations, and even of attempts to overturn the constitution.—Another to secure or increase a pension, shall go from county to county, to conciliate his countrymen to the most humiliating and distressing measures.—One man, to obtain a little present advantage to himself, shall knowingly sacrifice the most essential interests of his country.—Another to secure a pot, or a seat, shall either with-hold his hand and tongue, when duty requires them to be held forth, or will traiterously yield them both up at the requirement of his superiors.—Happy it is for New-England, that her senate is so UNCORRUPT, as that the whole force of prerogative exerted upon a late trying occasion, could seduce from the true interests of their constituents, but seventeen out of one hundred and nine.

The conduct of the House of Assembly cannot be too much admired and commended: Though threatened with immediate annihilation, unless they complied with the requisition to rescind the resolution of a former house; they have, with a firmness and unanimity, becoming the representatives of a wise and free people, asserted and maintained, instead of giving up their undoubted rights and privileges. Thus preferring the life and welfare of their country to their own political existence—the famous sixty two will for ever live in the annals of America; but the names of seventeen will be handed down with infamy to the latest posterity.

It is said, that at the juncture when the Governor was pleased to adjourn the Great and General Court, the Honourable Board of Councellors were consulting a humble petition to the King, upon the important affair of parliamentary taxation: And the Honourable House were debating upon another petition to the same Sacred Person, for the removal of a great man from the high office he holds under his Majesty in this province.

It has been conjectured, that if the silver already drawn from us by the new duties, was to be beat into thin plates, that it would entirely cover the main road from this town to the borders of York government; but this sum large as it is, is not any ways equal to the sum lost the province by the decrease on its trade by means of the late regulations.

We hear from Virginia, that no goods imported from Great-Britain, which are subject to the payment of any of the late duties, are permitted to be exposed to sale by the merchants there, or even allowed to be kept in their possession; but that as soon as any such arrive among them, they are lodged in the care of the custom-house there—It is tho't by many persons, that if the merchants of the several colonies would desist from importing any of those commodities, subject to duties here, it would be the most effectual and constitutional method of getting redress of the grievance so much complained of.

Portsmouth, New-Hampshire, June 24. Last Monday between one and two o'clock, P. M. a shock of an earthquake was felt in this and the neighbouring towns; the noise was loud, but not attended with so much shaking as usual.

Philadelphia, July 14. We learn from North-Carolina, that the distressed situation of that province, occasioned by the restrictions on their trade, and the arbitrary conduct of some, who were entrusted with the liberties of their country, had caused great commotions; that great numbers of the inhabitants in the back parts had assembled together, in order to get their grievances redressed; and that they had sent an express to the Governor, who is gone to enquire into the cause of their complaint.

A gentleman from Boston informs, that it was currently reported there, that John Williams, Inspector-general of the board of commissioners, on his tour through the several towns, &c. arrived at Casco-Bay, where he had not been long, before he was complimented with the prospect of a gallows erected near his place of residence, which had so good an effect on him, that he fled to a friend's house, from whence he thought it most prudent to make his escape in woman's cloaths, not chusing to have any acquaintance with his new neighbour.

The New-Hampshire gazette, of June 24, mentions, that of the petitions sent home from Boston for having certain acts repealed, are actually rejected.

A letter from a gentleman, of distinction in Boston, mentions, that the conduct of the colonies of Virginia, Maryland, New-Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode-Island, has given the greatest satisfaction to every friend to American liberty, and that they were persuaded the respectable colonies of Pennsylvania, the Carolinas, New-York, and New-Hampshire, would, as soon as they have opportunity, distinguish themselves in like manner.

St. John's (Antigua) May 28. By a gentleman arrived from Montserrat, we are informed, that Monsieur Moulives, Governor of Guadaloupe, was there on a friendly visit to the President of that island.

June 1. On Monday last, his Excellency the General, in his Majesty's sloop Vulture, arrived here from St. Christopher's.

We hear that Monsieur Moulives, Lieutenant-Governor of Guadeloupe, is expected here on a visit to his Excellency General Woodley.

June 19. We hear from Grenada, that a duel was fought there by the Honourable Thomas Proudfoot, Esq; (a member of the Council) and Captain —— Gordon, of the —— regiment; the latter received a shot through the body, and expired immediately. Mr. Proudfoot received a wound of which he lay very ill.

General Melvill has prorogued the Assembly of Grenada, to the 25th August.

CHARLES-TOWN, JULY 25.

FROM the particular Attention that has, for some Time past, been paid to putting the Barracks in Order, it has been surmised by some, that they were preparing to receive at least a Regiment of Troops. Whether these Surmises have any Foundation or not, our Advices do not authorize us to say, though they intimate, that the Government at Home seems more determined than ever, that the Revenue Acts, to operate in America, shall be enforced: And we are informed, that Orders have been received by the commanding Officer of his Majesty's Troops in this Province, immediately to withdraw all the Garisons from the Out-Posts; in Consequence of which His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, we hear, has actually appointed Edward Wilkinson, Esq; to be Commandant of Fort Prince-George, Keowee.

Monf. St. Pierre, a French Gentleman, who has obtained the Grant of a considerable Quantity of Land near Fort Charlotte (or Colonel Andrew Bell) we hear, is appointed Commandant at that Post.

It is constantly reported, that the Merit and Services of John Stuart, Esq; Superintendant of Indian Affairs, &c. for the Southern District of North-America, have appeared, or been represented, in so striking a Light at Home, that that Gentleman is to be allowed an Addition of Four Hundred Pounds Sterling a Year to his Salary, and at the same Time so much eased in his Office, as to have little else to do than annually distribute £. 5000 Sterling in Presents among the Indians in his Department.

The Creek Indians who were present at running the Line between their Hunting-Grounds and Georgia, dissatisfied at some Proceedings regarding Rum and Paint, we are told, went off abruptly, refusing the Presents that were offered them by Mr. M'Intosh the Superintendant's Commissary: We are also told, that Messrs. M'Gillivray and Barnard, are since sent to reconcile Matters.

His Majesty's Superintendant of Indian Affairs, went out of Town last Saturday was Sennight; but whether he is gone farther than his Plantation, we do not presume to know.

The last Accounts from the Back Settlements, say, that the People called the REGULATORS were to have a Meeting at Lynch's Creek, as last Friday, where it was expected 1200 would be assembled. The Occasion of this Meeting is said to be, a Party of them having been lately roughly used by a Gang of Banditti, consisting of Mulattoes, Free Negroes, & notorious Harbourers of run-away Slaves, at a Place called Thompson's-Creek, whom they ordered to remove. It is added, they anxiously wait to hear the Fate of the Act for establishing Circuit Courts in this Province, sent Home for the Royal Approbation, which, if it obtains, will restore good Order in those Parts.

Letters from East-Florida advise, that the late great Rains have so much injured the Rice Plantations in that Province, that they will be disappointed of making so great Figure in their Exports this Year as they expected.—The Brigt. American Soldier, James Holland, Master, for Piscataqua, and the Brigantine Betty, Lewis Foye, Master, for Boston, are failed from St. Augustine.

Philip Durell, Esq; late Commander, the other Officers, and Marines, of His Majesty's Frigate Cygnet, go Home in the Grantham Packet-Boat, commanded by Captain John Jones; as does Lieut. Lennox, who came in her from Pensacola. Said Packet sails as soon as the Wind proves favourable.

From Rhode-Island, we have Advice of the Death of Miss Holybush, of this Town, on the 19th of last Month.

The Quantity of RICE exported from Charles-Town from the 1st of November last to this Day is, 111,203 Barrels. And the Price now is Three Pounds and Ten Shillings, per Hundred Pounds Weight.

The Snow Pitt, Capt. Copithorn, from Briftol, arrived at Savannah last Tuesday. And the Brigt. Dolphin, Capt. Crane, from the Bay of Honduras for Hamburgh, is put into that Port, in want of water.
